

The Giants

MARKETING MASTERCLASS

How the Giants Marketing Masterclass works:

This is the ultimate programme for Marketing Managers and Leaders looking to take their marketing to the next level.

Your growth levers

We will analyse and understand your company's growth levers and use 6 powerful growth strategies specifically catered to your business to increase marketing performance by at least 20%.

Eliminate guesswork

Learn from top industry leaders who have achieved remarkable success. Gain insights from experts like the CMO of L'Oreal on strategic briefs, the CMO of M&S on the power of creativity, the Chief AI Officer at WPP on the future of AI-driven marketing, and the ex-Managing Director of Marketing at Direct Line Group on driving growth through commerciality in marketing.

Real-world application

You will apply what you learn within your organisation at regular intervals via creating a personalised action plan on specific marketing challenges you face within your organisation and regular weekly personalised feedback on how to overcome them.

8 Week Online Programme

The programme is 8 weeks on a part-time basis, with weekly modules and coaching sessions that can be completed in the gaps. It takes approximately 50 hours to finish.

6 Unique Modules

Who is the programme for?

We built this powerful programme for marketing managers and leaders who are facing these challenges:

Struggling to move the needle

You are finding it difficult to diagnose the growth drivers of your organisation. We will hold your hand in understanding those drivers and transform it into strategies and actions that that move the needle.

Attempting to turn theory into action

You've learnt the marketing theory but find it hard to contextualize that into your day job. Our team of experts will provide 1:1 support to help you take meaningful action in your organisation.

Guesswork in your Strategy

Take the guesswork out of your marketing. Apply proven strategies from CMOs and executives from L'Oreal, M&S, WPP and Direct Line Group which are personalised to your organisation.

Complexity holding you back

Your organisation has multiple teams, strategies and objectives to navigate. Develop your technical and strategic skillset to understand how these critical parts in your organisation come together and how you can utilise them to drive commerciality in marketing.

What people say

"I recently completed the programme and it was truly invaluable to me in progressing as a marketer. The content was incredibly in-depth and packed with practical strategies and insights that covered the broad scope of marketing and I will certainly be implementing my learnings into my daily work. Ritchie Mehta was fantastic - his enthusiasm and passion made each session engaging and easy to follow. I highly recommend this course to anyone looking to upskill in media marketing."

Ben Cox

Marketing Executive
at Clear Channel

"An unmissable opportunity for anyone looking to level-up or refresh their understanding of marketing. The content is exceptional - combining solid grounding in the fundamentals with a wealth of practical examples and enlightening insights from marketing leaders and experts. The mixture of live sessions, video content and podcasts worked well for me. Being able to listen on-the-go a big plus and fit for hectic schedules! Finally, the programme opens a door to a brilliant community of other participants. I've got a feeling the alumni community will be something special to be a part of for years to come."

Saffron Inkster

Global Senior Strategy Manager
at Unilever

"Interesting, insightful and inspiring! I thoroughly enjoyed taking part in the programme with The School of Marketing. A key highlight of the course for me was the live sessions from the industry experts and contributions from them throughout the six modules. There's no better experience hearing and learning from the best, then knowing how to apply it back on the ground."

Kate Withers

Marketing Manager
at HSBC

Qualification

On completion of the 6 modules you get a Giants Marketing Masterclass certificate of completion.
